Mexican Students

MEXICO CITY—About 2000 students shouting anti-government slogans confronted steel-helmeted troops backed by armored cars as they attempted to stage a protest march through the city.

As the students moved out of the National University, in a bid to stage a march to protest the imprisonment of classmates in recent violent student riots, cars carrying soldiers with loaded machine guns moved into the street to block their way.

Post, 2-14-68